TYPHOON RAZES SOME TWO JIMA BUILDINGS; OTHER DAMAGE HEAVY

PACIFIC STORM WITH WINDS OF 160 MPH "SITTING ON ISLAND"

GUAM, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A devastating tropical typhoon which "sat down" on tiny two Jima leveled some buildings and left others little more than twisted steel and wood, a faint radio message picked up by the Coast Guard station here reported today.

The message, heard this afternoon, was the first communication from the volcanic island 800 miles north of Guam in more than seven hours.

It contained no word of how some 300 Army, Airforce and Coast Guardsmen and their dependents fared in the lashing storm.

The typhoon brought sustained winds of 130 miles an hour, with gusts up to 160 miles, the message said. It reported a large quonset hut and one barracks building completely leveled and said damage to others was severe.

Water Damage Great

Water damage was described as great. The Navy relayed earlier reports that the great Pacific storm was "sitting right down on top of the island".

CORSICANANS MAKE LIBERAL DONATIONS FOR JEWISH APPEAL

W. P. McCAMMON, CHAIRMAN ADVANCE GIFTS, RELEASES FIRST REPORT

Corsicanans are contributing generously to the campaign for the relief of suffering and distress of thousands of men, women and children in foreign lands. W. P. McCammon, chairman of the advance gifts committee of the Corsicana Citizens Committee of the United Jewish Appeal campaign, stated Thursday as he released a partial list of contributors.

The Christians are raising $8,300 of the $75,000 quota for Corsicana.

Quota of $8,300.

"Our Jewish citizens of Corsicana have been called upon to raise $75,000 to help relieve the suffering and distress of thousands of men, women and little children in far away lands; and of this amount, they only lack some $8,300 of meeting their quota."

Little Observance Made Of "Eggless" Day; Plan Favored

Eggless Thursday (that's speaking theoretically) came to Corsicana, and that yellow on your neighbor's chin wasn't buttercup fluff.

As the first "Eggless-Poultryless" day, under President Truman's plan to do without to help Europeans who have little, came eggs at the right, at the left, and scrambled. As it came, too, Corsicana got its first accurate cross section of thought as to cooperation with the president in his request.

Public opinion was overwhelmingly in favor of doing the president's asking.

S. N. Georgas, owner of George's Grill, decided to see for himself how the average coffee drinker thought. He put a book on his counter—handy to the cash register—with the following typewritten notation attached:

"Do you endorse the President's plan for food saving, providing meatless Tuesdays and to abstain from eggs on Thursdays?"

Labor To Protest Distiller Shutdown As Tax Loss Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A labor protest against a projected 60-day holiday from liquor distilling threw a new obstacle today in the path of the grain conservation move which most industry officials accepted as inevitable.

An AFL distillery workers' union official, John E. McKiernan, said in Frankfurt, Ky., he anticipates the organization will seek a meeting with Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens' Food Committee to protest the move.

He estimated 100,000 persons would be thrown out of work by the holiday, and said, "charity should begin at home." A 50 percent shutdown for a 120-day period would be preferable from the workers' standpoint, McKiernan said.

Meanwhile, the nation experiences a 100,000 idle threatened.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Directors and officials of the State Restaurant Association of Texas today rejected the National government's food conservation plan in favor of their own plan which they said will go even further to "save food every day in the week and every hour of the day."

Meeting in private session, the restaurant directors adopted a six-point program, in lieu of meatless Tuesdays and poultryless Thursdays, which they said will recommend to the restaurant people of Texas and their customers.

1. Eliminate meat as far as possible on every menu on Tuesdays and provide other nutritious food items not in critical supply.

2. Eliminate or reduce the amount of eggs served on Thursdays.

3. Eliminate poultry from Thursday menus if possible.

4. For breakfast on Tuesdays and Thursdays spotlight and push hot cakes, waffles, and cereals and eliminate or reduce the amount of meats and eggs served on those two days.

5. Serve one slice of bread or roll to the customer.

6. Make butter available to the customer only upon request.

EGG PRICES ADVANCE FIRST EGGLESS DAY; HOGS, BUTTER RISE

Egg markets in big wholesale markets as the nation's consumers observed the first eggless and poultryless Thursday requested by President Truman in the campaign to save food for Europe.

Egg prices advanced fully a cent a dozen in the New York and Chicago wholesale markets.

Live hog prices in East St. Louis and Indianapolis advanced about 25 cents, and in Chicago were generally steady to strong, with heavy butchers steady to 25 cents higher.

Butter prices advanced rather sharply in the New York market.

On the Chicago board of trade, wheat and corn futures were firm. Flour, as serving the New York metropolitan area advanced, wheat flour prices 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds, on top of boosts of 15 to 20 cents yesterday. As in previous instances, the millers gave advancing cash wheat prices as the reason.

Yesterday, there also were gains in prices in grains at Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis; in butter and eggs futures at Chicago.

TWO MORE SUSPECTS HELD BY FEDERALS IN ATOMIC THEFTS

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Federal agents who have been probing thefts of confidential matter from the Los Alamos atomic project yesterday arrested two suspects and at the same time revealed the investigation also has covered a highly secret weapons project outside Albuquerque.

Complaints filed immediately after the simultaneous arrests 85 miles apart in New Mexico accused George Wellington Thompson, 38, formerly of Greenwood, Mo., of taking classified photographs from both the army's atomic base here and the atom laboratory; and Ernest Lawrence Paporello, 29, formerly of Union City, N. J., of stealing half a dozen Los Alamos pictures.

The two were identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as former army photographers at Los Alamos, where the first atom bomb was assembled. After his discharge Thompson was a civil service employee for a time at Sandia.

Arraigned in Santa Fe, Thompson pleaded guilty to the Los Alamos thefts but denied taking any photos from the base here. Paporello's hearing in Albuquerque

U.S. Robot Rocket Planes Pass British Sonic Tests; Pilotless Craft Developed

By ROBERT S. BAIL (Staff Correspondent of the Detroit News) (Copyright, 1947, by the Detroit News)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9.—(AP)—American robot rocket planes have crashed the sonic barrier at blistering speeds in the neighborhood of 1,700 miles an hour, a high government official revealed today.

The flights have been carried on for months from a lonely island off the Virginia coast, where the national advisory committee for aeronautics (NACA) has a small experiment station.

This disclosure of American progress in the field of supersonic flight—which is flight faster than the speed of sound—was prompted by publication Wednesday of accounts from England of the 90-mile-an-hour flight of pilotless rocket craft.

In the English experiments, the American rocket ships are launched at high altitudes from a

FIRST BLANKET RENT INCREASE, DE-CONTROL ACTION UNDER NEW LAW REVEALED BY HOUSING BOSS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon, acting for the first time under the new rent control law, today approved a 5 percent increase for the Louisville, Ky., area.

Creedon also ordered continuation of existing controls and rent ceilings in four other areas and approved removal of rent controls in Lawrence county, S. D., with the exception of the city of Spearfish.

In each case, Creedon acted on recommendations of local rent advisory boards set up under the rent control extension act which became effective last July 1.

DEATH OF A.F.L. CHIEF COUNSEL STUNS CONVENTION WITH GRIEF; LABOR PRESS PLEDGED FREEDOM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Death of 56-year-old Joseph Padway, general counsel of the American Federation of Labor, threw the A.F.L. convention into stunned grief today and delayed a prospective showdown over John L. Lewis' refusal to sign a non-communist oath.

Padway was fatally stricken midway in a long and violent attack on the Taft-Hartley Act on the convention platform yesterday. He died less than eight hours later in Stanford Hospital, shocking the 700 delegates and AFL leaders who had cleared his remarks without knowing he had sustained a stroke on the speaker's platform.

President William Green arranged for a memorial service this morning, which previously had been called for a speech by Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark, commanding the Sixth Army.

The executive council meeting scheduled for the afternoon was to be recessed or abbreviated to allow for attendance at funeral services.

Smaller Nations Hit U.S., Red "Secrecy" On Palestine Issues

By MAX HARRELSON.

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Mounting small power resentment against secrecy maintained by the United States and Russia on their respective Palestine policies flared into the open today but failed to speed up declarations from those major powers.

Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, delegate from Pakistan, angered over the delay in his power policy statements, proposed that the 57-nation Palestine committee of the United Nations Assembly close its debate immediately without hearing the great nations.

Saturday Possible Deadline.

Dr. Herbert V. Ewart of Australia, committee chairman, said he had sympathy with Khan's suggestion but that he had to follow the established rules of procedure. He said there was a "reasonable" chance that the Palestine debate might be closed Saturday.

Hector David Castro of El Salvador suggested that deadline be fixed for delegations to get on the speaker's list.

Secretary of State Marshall did not attend today's Palestine session but he was said to be keeping close touch with the Palestine problem. Marshall had an appointment in New York this forenoon with Prince Faisal Al Saud, foreign minister of Saudi Arabia.

The prince is a leader in the Arab bloc opposing partition of the Holy Land.

BUTLER HEADS GROUP TO PLAN EVENTS FOR BUSINESSMEN'S VISIT

LARGE GROUP DUE TO BE HERE NOV. 10 ON CONSERVATION TOUR

Joe E. Butler, oil and refinery company official, will be chairman of a committee to arrange an open house and buffet supper honoring between 100 and 150 Northern and Eastern businessmen who come here Nov. 10 in the interest of soil conservation.

Herman Brown, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that Butler had been named to head the group.

Vice chairman is John F. Adams.

Bromfield Heads Group.

The group, headed by Louis Bromfield, novelist and farmer, will arrive the morning of Nov. 10, and spend the day here touring good and bad farms.

Bromfield will speak at two public gatherings during the afternoon and night.

The open house will be held at the Corsicana County Club beginning at 3 p. m. and extending through the afternoon.

Other members of the committee are Sydney Brietz, J. M. Dyer, Lewis David, Mayor Herbert Braswell, H. M. Montgomery, B. Lynn Sanders, John R. Corley.

Meeting Set Friday.

Additional work on the visit will be done at 10:30 a. m. Friday, when members of the exhibit committee and the tour routing committee meet at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The tour is sponsored jointly by the Second National Bank of Houston and the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, a part of Burlington Lines.

COMMUNITY-CHEST'S BUDGET MAY BE UP FROM LAST YEAR'S

The 1947-48 goal of the Community Chest will be announced Friday following a meeting of the board of directors scheduled for 10 a. m. at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Final decision of the budget committee as to allocations to the various Corsicana agencies participating in the chest funds will be recommended to the board for final action.

Herman Brown, executive secretary, said Thursday that it was necessary to decrease amounts requested by some of the agencies.

At that, he said, the goal this year probably will be slightly higher than of last year. Last year's goal was $38,000.

Total increases asked were approximately $10,000.

Brown said that new agency, the Negro Day Nursery, was included in the budget committee's studies.

Final approval of the budget will set into motion plans for the annual campaign, headed by J. Dave Walker as general chairman.

RUSSIANS WILL NOT PARTICIPATE IN U.N. COMMISSION, VOTING

U.S. SEEN PRESSING FOR CONDEMNATION OF SATELLITE NATIONS

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The United States, apparently certain of victory in its fight for a United Nations "watchdog" commission approved yesterday by a big majority and would not take part in the election of the commission's members.

An American spokesman declared that the U. S. delegation would deviate from its position only if the three accused nations—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—officially agreed to cooperate with the border commission, which was approved by the U. N.'s 57-nation political commission late yesterday by a 34 to 6 vote.

The spokesman added that the three nations had made it evident they had no intention of complying—an assertion to which Bulgarian Delegate Boris Athanasov gave weight by telling interviewers:

"They (the U. S.) have the mathematical right."

TWO MILLION DOLLARS DAMAGE TO COTTON IS SEEN IN WEST TEXAS

By The Associated Press.

Cotton fields in the Levelland area of West Texas today lay in virtual ruins—the result of a devastating 40-minute hail storm that caused an estimated $2,000,000 damages.

The hail storm, accompanied by rain, moved in on the Hookley county oil town yesterday afternoon and hammered the crops, pelted buildings and residences and dented automobiles.

Insurance men who estimated the loss said that crops suffered heaviest.

Levelland was hard hit by a hail storm the latter part of June, but its damage was not so extensive.

Meanwhile, near Pampa, approximately 140 miles north, lightning set fire to a 50,000-barrel oil tank of the Standish Oil Company. The

WISHLIFUL THINKING—Patricia Schmidt gazes wishfully through the bars of her cell in Havana, Cuba. She is accused of murder in the slaying of John Lester Moe of Chicago, on the yacht Satira. (AP Wirephoto.)

DEATH CASE DELAYED

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Patricia (Satira) Schmidt paced and wept in her prison cell today as the long hours until her trial for the murder of her lover, John Lester Moe, 33, of Chicago, is resumed next Tuesday.

"I am afraid that I may be condemned," she said, "It is so difficult to think and speak in English and try to make judges who speak only Spanish understand."

Despite the difficulty of language, the 22-year-old night club dancer from Toledo, O., told her story and re-enacted for the three-judge Cuban court yesterday the events which took place aboard Moe's yacht in Havana harbor last April 8, the day the Chicago lawyer got a fatal bullet through his neck.

As she collapsed in tears in the witness chair after the dramatic re-enactment, the dry voice of Chief Judge Cristobal More, president of the superior criminal court, announced a five-day postponement because of the long week-end celebration of Cuba's independence day—the tenth of October.

COTTON CROP IS NOW ESTIMATED AT LESS THAN FORMER GUESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The agriculture department today estimated this year's cotton crop at 11,608,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This estimate is a decrease of 341,000 bales over the 11,949,000 bales forecast a month ago. Production was 8,640,000 bales last year and 12,390,000 bales for the ten year (1936-45) average.

The indicated yield of lint cotton per acre was reported at 261.3 pounds, compared with 269 a month ago, 235.3 last year and 250.6 for the ten year average.

Condition 72 per cent. The condition of the crop on Oct. 1 was reported at 72 percent normal compared with 73 percent a month ago, 63 percent a year ago and 71 percent for the ten year average.

In an accompanying report the census bureau stated that 3,898,767 bales from this year's crop were ginned prior to Oct. 1. This compares with 2,334,443 bales ginned to the same date last year and 2,177,768 to the same date two years ago.

The condition of the crop Oct. 1, the indicated yield of lint cotton and the indicated production, respectively, by states included:

MISUNDERSTOOD LIVES ONE OF WORLD'S COMMON TRAGEDIES*

There is One Who Perfectly Comprehends All of Us - - High Truths of Religion Meant For Even Lowliest - - Place of Church Attendance in Sustaining Christian Life

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

This is a difficult lesson, dealing with high, hard truth. It soars to highest heaven and descends to lowliest living. It portrays the eternal priesthood of Christ, enthroned in the highest heaven, and His constant help in the needs of the humblest believer.

There is comfort beyond words in the truth that there is Someone who understands us. For one of the burdens that most of us bear, as a daily cross, is that we are misunderstood. Even our nearest and dearest do not fully comprehend our motives and actions. This is one of life's commonest tragedies. It is a universal cause of heart-break. The wife of a husband who shares our pillow is often far removed from an appreciation of our real self. Millions go to their graves in the black bitterness of having been misunderstood.

The Perfect Friend

In our Lesson text from the difficult Book of Hebrews the unknown author contrasts the ancient priesthood of the Moslem law with the new priesthood of Christ, who has entered into the heavens and sits enthroned with the Father, where "He ever liveth to make intercession for us."

Here is one of the profoundest truths of the Christian religion. As our Lesson text says, "For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin."

Jesus understands. There is not a thought, not a mood, not a deed within all that a Christian experiences that He does not understand. The world may cruelly misinterpret us, but He fully comprehends us. In life's darkest and most difficult circumstances His sympathy and compassion are complete. In that consciousness the martyr has faced fire and sword, scourge and noose, sustained, as was Stephen, by the vision of the risen Christ.

The Great Assurance So our author continues: "Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."

Denn Trench's familiar poem amplifies this practical truth: "Lord, what a change within us one short hour Spent in Thy presence will give us to make What heavy burdens from our bosoms take! What parched grounds refresh as with a shower! We kneel, and all around us seems to lower! We rise, and all the distant and the near, Stands forth in sunny outline, brave and clear; We kneel, how weak; we rise, how full of power! Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong, Or others—that we are not always strong, That we are sometimes overborne with care, That we should ever weak or heartless be, Anxious or troubled, when with us is prayer, And joy and strength and courage are with Thee?"

Doctrine, Then Duty Like other New Testament epistles, this Letter to the Hebrews first lays down a broad foundation of doctrine, and then proceeds to apply it to definite duty. But doctrine comes first. Truth precedes action. In spite of much loose talk in our time, it does matter what a man believes. Character and conduct are the fruits of conviction. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." One's conception of God affects the whole manner of his life. Straight and Scriptural beliefs about the Deity have personal and social consequences.

No aspect of current conditions troubles students of the times more than the manifest frivolity of the world. People seem engrossed in trivialities. Night clubs have an alarming vogue. Increasing trashiness marks the radio programs. Newspaper comic strips are more generally read than the editorials. Sports obsess myriads. Drinking is on the increase.

All this is on the surface of our contemporary life, while the collapse of civilization is by many thoughtful observers predicted as a near possibility. If ever mankind was called upon to do brave, clear and consistent thinking, that time is now. The alarm bells are ringing all around the world.

Our Lesson closes with an exhortation not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together. In other words, go regularly to church. That is the simplest way of expressing loyalty to God. Every time we go to Church we cast a vote for God.

ROBOT PLANES CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE the project, say its true value is that parts of the system, as well as the entire combination can be used to meet specific problems.

One problem now being studied is application of the automatic control to approach and landing procedure for jet planes. This is a critical problem for jets, because their fuel supply usually requires that once they have started down from altitude they must continue to a landing. Automatic flight could improve on human performance as well as relieve the pilot of considerable strain.

INJURED GIRL GETS $22,500 JUDGMENT AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Seventeen-year-old Jeanna Gross, critically injured in an auto-truck collision at Wortham July 24, 1946, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. W. Gross, of Corsicana, won judgment in the amount of $22,500 against the Red Arrow Freight Lines, Inc. in Navarro District court Tuesday.

The Gross petition, asking $50,000 total damages, was filed with the district clerk Tuesday and judgment was entered the same day following an agreement for the $22,500 settlement.

Attorney Doyle Pevchouse was appointed by the court as guardian ad litem for the minor Gross. The suit grew out of the Wortham accident in which Miss Gross suffered a brain concussion. The petition said the girl was unconscious for two days and was unable to speak for many months, after a car in which she was riding crashed into a Red Arrow truck and trailer attempting to turn around on the highway.

Plaintiff was sixteen years of age and a senior in high school with an unusually brilliant mind and one of the leaders of her class, the petition said. "She has been unable to continue her course in school and will for the balance of her life be unable to work or earn money."

In entering the judgment, District Judge A. P. Mays awarded the Grosses $12,500, and $10,000 to R. J. W. Gross and Mrs. Eva Gross, the parents.

Telemetering devices installed in the robot automatically transmit pertinent data to observers aloft and on the ground. Radar also is used to track the rocket plane throughout its brief but sensational flight.

"It will not be many months before we have a piloted aircraft break through the sonic barrier (750 miles an hour at 30,000 feet), although he will be flying a 'turbo-jet plane with a rocket boost,' the government spokesman said.

Great Progress Made It was revealed that great progress had been made in recent months in perfecting controls for the supersonic aircraft, whose wings are so sharply swept back that they resemble a "V."

Today's disclosures coincided with but were not a part of the first annual inspection by military and civilian engineers of the NACA's flight propulsion research laboratory at the edge of the Cleveland Municipal Airport.

This $50,000,000 government research plant, which Detroit sought in 1940, has been operating at a constantly accelerating pace for five years. It now has a staff of more than 2,200 technicians.

Among the 270 civilian engineers who toured the vast laboratories Wednesday was Charles A. Lindbergh, who headed the NACA committee which originally planned the facility in 1940. It was his first visit.

Both Lindbergh and Dr. George Lewis, who recently retired as NACA research director, had visited German jet and rocket propulsion research facilities shortly before the war and had first-hand knowledge of the great strides made even then by German scientists in this field.

The committee's decisions will go to the assembly for final approval after it completes action on the U. TEXAS FOOD

A statewide survey revealed at noon today that in some areas poultryless Thursday laid an egg; in others it was observed; in majority it was a split decision.

The majority of restaurants continued to serve eggs and chicken dishes, awaiting the outcome of the State Restaurant Association meeting in Austin today.

A statewide policy on both meatless Tuesdays and poultryless Thursdays will be adopted there. Meanwhile, they let customers follow their consciences.

Housewives cooperated on the whole, but many frankly admitted they didn't.

Restaurants contacted in a spot survey said they didn't know what would happen to chicken dinners later in the day, but as for breakfast—most people ate eggs as usual.

In Fort Worth, one restaurant served fried mush as a possible substitute, but few people responded. Other cafes there served eggs if customers ordered them—and customers did.

Two Dallas restaurants specialize in fried chicken—Youngbloods and Leslies—said they were staying open today.

The manager of Leslies' said most chicken places would be open today. He said they were awaiting the outcome of the State Restaurant Association meeting in Austin later today.

Members of Eta Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, read with much interest a recent item in the official publication, "The Torch," which stated that Mrs. Beauford Jester, wife of the Governor of Texas, has been made an honorary member of Texas Zeta Omicron.

rant Association meeting in Austin later today.

Whatever policy will be set, we will follow," he said. "We want to do whatever the public wants. Personally, though, I think we'll all be closed next Thursday."

Buy A Disc That Cuts

For Modern high speed power farming you need a disc harrow that cuts its way in, getting depth without excess weighting... pulverizing as it penetrates. With an Allis-Chalmers disc harrow behind your tractor you get this cutting penetration. You can disc deeper with less power, drive faster... do a better job. A-C disc blades have the right "dish" to bite their way into the hardest ground. They are keen-edged and electrically heat-treated to stay sharp and true even in hardest soils.

Easy adjustment from the tractor seat is a time-saving feature of all Allis-Chalmers disc harrows. Angled automatically at the pull of a trip rope, they let you stay on the tractor seat... making better discing easier.

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY DEWITT M'KENZIE
British Prime Minister Attlee's drastic shake-up of his labor (Socialist) cabinet—the ousting of five ministers and the demotion of Fuel and Power Minister Emanuel Shinwell, powerful left-wing leader—is a notable development, both in the political life of England and in relation to the general European economic crisis.

Mr. Attlee's paramount object clearly is to secure the utmost governmental efficiency for dealing with Britain's life and death struggle against the great depression. Having recently created Sir Stafford Cripps as minister for economic affairs, with virtually dictatorial power in that field, the prime minister now is surrounding his key man with new executive talent to strengthen the machine. Some thirty posts are involved in the reshuffling and firing. All in all it's an encouraging demonstration of John Bull's intention to see the crisis through.

Political Aspects Studied.
However, the political aspect of the situation is perhaps even more important, from the long-range viewpoint of world peace. In ousting Shinwell from the vital fuel and power ministry (coal production being the crux of the crisis), and giving him the relatively unimportant post of war minister,

CORPORATION COURT

Traffic cases and one drunkenness charge occupied the time of Corporation court Thursday morning.

Attlee took his political life in his hands. He was dealing with the most important leftist in his cabinet—a man with a big following. Small wonder then that the question immediately should arise whether Shinwell's demotion represents a Socialist swing to the right. Several London newspapers expressed the view that it was, but government spokesmen declared this idea was without foundation. Well, maybe the Prime Minister wasn't making a gesture to the right, but we can be excused for at least wondering. Certainly he wasn't swinging to the left.

Brown On Program.
"Handling Meetings" will be discussed by Herman Brown, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, at a East Texas Chamber of Commerce short course for managers and office secretaries, to be held at Tyler Nov. 14-15.

Brown was invited to conduct the discussion on that particular angle of the short course in a letter received Thursday.

NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

American business leaders, far from being the heartless profiteers pictured by some, are activated by a sense of social responsibility and have been awakened to the necessity of supporting dynamic ideas basic to the American way of life, it has been asserted. That these ideas are a powerful force for social good is a fact which has been overlooked too long by the country's intellectuals.

Russell Porter, writing in the New York Times, says that many American intellectuals have tended to import their ideas from Europe and more facts of American life. A Harvard University pamphlet, entitled Education for Business Responsibility, is important, explains Porter, because of evidence it gives of cooperation between the American business leader and the school, and of growing intellectual backing for the idea that economic and political freedom are essential to a free society.

With the rest of the world apparently drifting more or less passively into Socialism in one form or another, it is up to America's leaders to prove to observers that the greatest good for the greatest number lies in a system granting political and economic freedom.

BETTER OR WORSE?

Is politics getting better or worse? The conviction of Congressman Andrew J. May of Kentucky was one proof that today's public men are not perfect. Against this single instance of corruption the testimony in 1876 of Senator George F. Hoar, for 27 years a highly respected senator from Massachusetts, should be considered.

"In my brief period of public life," Hoar told Congress in substance, "I have seen five judges of a high court of the United States driven from office by threats of impeachment for corruption or maladministration. I have heard the taunt that the only product of her institutions in which the United States surpassed all others was her corruption. I have seen in the foremost state of the union four judges of her courts impeached for corruption and the political administration of her chief city become a byword throughout the world. I have heard in the highest places the shameless doctrine avowed by men grown old in public office that the true way to gain power is by bribing the people with the offices created for their service."

This was after the Civil War. While every war has been followed by a decline in public spirit, nothing today can equal the disgrace of the '70's. World War I was followed by the scandals of the Harding administration. Nothing remotely resembling them has occurred in the years following World War II. There can be no doubt that politics and politicians, though far from perfect, are better than they were 70 years ago.

INEFFICIENT DICTATORS

There is no such thing as an absolute dictatorship, according to H. R. Trevor-Roper, English historian and author of "The Last Days of Hitler." His argument is that when the government is an irresponsible absolutism like Hitler's "every man whose position makes him either strong or vulnerable must protect himself against surprise by reserving from the common pool whatever power he has managed to acquire. Thus there is in the end no common pool at all."

Edgar A. Guest

QUATRAINS

The Long Skirt.

Enraged, the women want to bar
 Long skirts again.
 They think the short ones nicer far.
 So do the men.

Double Strength.

He who has a friend nearby
 Has the strength of two for trouble.
 And, when doubt and fear are nigh,
 He possesses wisdom double.

Epitaph.

Here lies the body of Martin
 Grove.
 In heaven we hope to find him.
 At ninety miles an hour he drove
 And left the world behind him.

The Other Side.

Beware the tale, be what it may,
 If plainly hatred swells it.
 'Tis best to wait to hear the way
 The other fellow tells it.

Goering, Bormann, Himmler and the rest built up systems of private armies and intelligence service to protect themselves against the others' intrigues. The result was not the efficiency which some people attribute to dictatorship, but utter confusion.

Something like that could be occurring in Russia. The Communists have had so many purges that it is hard to believe that prominent officials there are not building up private forces to protect themselves.

INSURING FREEDOM

If a nation takes over a number of leading industries is its freedom being destroyed? The head of the British judicial system, who should know the answer, addressed the recent annual meeting of the California State Bar Association. William A. Jowitt, Lord Chancellor of England, asserted that any country which has five possessions need not fear of going to totalitarianism.

These were a free legal profession, a free press, impartial courts, the right to trial by jury and the principle of habeas corpus. Any nation which has these, such as Great Britain and the United States, need not fear that its liberties will be endangered by economic experimentation.

PUSH BUTTON MARVEL

"Push button living" is a phrase which has been considered essentially a rhetorical utterance. But such is no longer so—it has become a matter of fact.

A robot airplane, carrying 12 persons, left Newfoundland the other day when a button was touched, and landed 12 hours later in England. The only work required of any of those aboard was the touch by one of a button at the take-off. A "mechanical brain" controlled the plane, computed distances, made allowance for headwinds and tailwinds and picked up a radio beam 100 miles off the coast of Ireland. The plane made a perfect landing with all gears and flaps functioning normally.

A colonel from San Antonio, Tex., a major from Dayton, O., other army flyers and an R. A. F. pilot comprised the crew which had nothing to do during the flight. The Atlantic flight was in the nature of a climax for the plane which had been flown by robot back and forth across the country on two previous trials.

Despite the success of this test of robot flying, few civilians will care to trust themselves to such mechanics—at least for a while. The trip remains one of the marvels of the century but scarcely anything which will result in the abandonment of airplane crews. However, this accomplishment assures a variety of new safety devices and controls for more robot-pilot-manned flight.

Not all the trouble in the world has a Communist origin. The religious riots between the Sikhs and the Mohammedans of India go back to a time when Communism had not been heard of.

Of especial interest were the red roses in a Mexican blue glass pitcher used on the living room table and the centerpiece used on the dining table, which was fashioned of marigolds and desert spoons.

At the conclusion of the business session with the new president, Mrs. Earl Seale, presiding, the program on "Our Civic Problems" was held in the form of an open forum, with each member contributing suggestions. "Our Parks," "Our Streets," "Our Alleys," and "Our Cemeteries" were assigned topics given by Mrs. H. C. Barlow, Mrs. Joe G. Sheppard, Mrs. R. P. Walker, and Mrs. Dale Owen. During the social interlude refreshments were served to members and Mrs. Robert Tyus, Mrs. Andrew Talley, Mrs. R. W. Ford, Mrs. L. H. Carroll, Jr., and Mrs. Johnnie Mills.

Citing numerous violations of the state traffic code, state patrolmen in this area cautioned motorists Wednesday on laws pertaining to the overtaking and passing of school buses.

Under the law a motorist who meets or overtakes a halted school bus on a highway outside a business or residential district must stop his vehicle, then proceed past the bus at a speed not exceeding ten miles per hour.

The motorist must use due caution for the safety of children boarding or leaving a school bus.

How to Tell You're Getting Old

Doc Walters gave me this formula: It's a sure-fire sign you're getting old when you resent other people having a good time.

And the Doc means it hasn't much to do with age. There are old folks in our town who get a big kick out of seeing other people enjoy themselves—seems to keep them young in spirit, with a twinkle in their eyes!

And there are some others who resent the young folks going fishing; who feel that community games and dances are just a waste of time; or who criticize temperate people for enjoying a mellow glass of beer with friends.

They're often well-intentioned folks, too. But from where I sit, the minute we criticize our neighbors for enjoying wholesome pleasures—like a game of horseshoes, a glass of beer, or an afternoon's fishing—it's a sure sign we're growing old (in spirit anyway) no matter what our age is.

Way Cleared For New Community Hospital Program

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 9.—(AP)—The way has been cleared for Texas to proceed with a $72,000,000 community hospital construction program.

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, was notified yesterday by Surgeon General Thomas Parran from Washington that final approval of the Texas plans has been given by the United States Public Health Service.

"This action apparently clears the way for local project plans to be presented to the State Department of Health for approval and thus facilitate the early beginning of hospital construction," Dr. Cox said.

Top priorities have been given communities where no hospital service is available. They will be given the opportunity to benefit first in the program under which the federal government will share the expenses of building and equipping hospitals.

The priorities were worked out

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

(From the Files of the Corsicana Daily Sun)

The New York Giants won the 1922 World Series, taking the fourth game in a row off the New York Yankees by a score of 5-3. The Giants got to pitcher Joe Bush for four hits.

The Waco high school team swamped the Corsicana State Home football team 119-0. A Waco sports editor, in writing about the game, neglected to say that it was the State Home team that was defeated, merely stating that Waco beat Corsicana by that score.

The "Buy at Home" campaign was officially launched by the Corsicana Advertising Club today when representatives of the Retail Merchants association met and discussed the move from the standpoint of organization and benefits.

Judge Hawkins Scarborough granted 21 divorces in one day in district court here on Saturday, October 7. Fourteen marriage licenses were issued on the same day the 21 divorces were granted.

PART OF CAMP BOWIE AREA MAY BE MADE INTO GAME REGION

(P)—The Texas Wildlife Federation said in notices to associated clubs today that several groups are interested in buying 35,000 acres of the 160,000-acre surplus Camp Bowie military maneuvers area for a game restoration and demonstration area.

Grady Hill of San Angelo, president of the federation, said he was informed by Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the State Game Commission that the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce was among those asking the game commission to drop its proposal to buy the land.

The question will be discussed in Austin Monday at a meeting of the commission.

Hill said that the federation was calling the attention of 80 clubs to the Brownwood request.

"The federation did this at the request of Brownwood sportsmen and after determining that many people at Brownwood wish to have the public project," Hill said.

The federation notices dealt primarily with the organization's regular semi-annual directors' meeting to be held in Mineral Wells Sunday, Oct. 19.

"Camp Bowie offers the perfect set-up for establishment of the state demonstration project, which 1,250,000 Texas sportsmen wish to see carried eventually to the various sections of the state to give the public places on which they can hunt and fish," Hill said.

"Texas," Hill added, "is one of the few western states with no actual public lands. Today Johnny Public is lucky to find a place where he can hunt and fish."

The rites were conducted by Rev. Decker Anderson. Surviving are his wife of Port Arthur; mother, Mrs. A. W. Anderson, Mildred; three brothers, Jim Anderson, Port Arthur; Allen Anderson, Sweeney; and Juber Anderson, Kilgore; four sisters, Mrs. Lydia Owens, Mildred; Mrs. Willie Brannon, Corsicana; Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, Gladewater, and Mrs. Effie Gance, Kerens, and other relatives.

Palbearers were Pat Horn, Elmer Smith, Alton Smith, Jinks Smith, Elmo Hollingsworth and George Nokes.

It's A Boy

Note to Mayor Hubert T. Branton: If that's dust on your desk when you return from New York, let's not grumble any.

There's sufficient reason for it. Your usually dependable janitor was just hitting the high spots Thursday, and naturally an absent mayor's desk wouldn't be classified as a high spot.

The reason weighed seven and a half pounds. It is a boy. The papa is the usually efficient Vernon Bates, municipal building janitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin (Happy) McCleary have arrived from San Diego, Calif., for a ten-day visit in the home of Mr. McCleary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCleary.

Mrs. L. A. Pinkston visited in the home of her son, Will Pinkston, in Dallas on Monday.

Peewee Croft Lands Big Bass Tuesday

William (Peewee) Croft, Jr., ardent sportsman who is an expert in snaring the finny tribe, landed a four pound, 15 ounce bass at Lake Halbert Tuesday afternoon. He was casting with artificial lure at the time of the strike. A lively contest ensued.

The big bass left the water several times before Croft finally brought him into subjection. Everett Smith was with Croft at the time of the catch.

Croft is regarded as one of the more successful fishermen at Lake Halbert and other bodies of water where the bass and other game fish are found.

The Camp Fire Board will meet in regular session at the Camp Fire office on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The next meeting of White's Chapel Home Demonstration Club will be held at the Community Center with Mrs. Homer Logan as hostess.

Mesdames Julia Mirus and N. C. Pinkston were spend-the-day visitors in Dallas on Monday and visited in the home of Mrs. Mirus' daughter, Mrs. H. B. Green.

CHARITY CARNIVAL TO BE SPONSORED BY CORSICANA LIONS

On October 31 Corsicana will have for the first time a public afternoon night carnival sponsored by the Lions Club for the benefit of charity.

The carnival committee, headed by Foy Garrett, hopes to make the colorful event an annual affair, providing recreation and amusement for the city's youth. Prizes will be given for costumes worn by children—one prize for the funniest, one for the ugliest and one for the prettiest, Garrett said.

Concessions, fortune telling booths, and other carnival paraphernalia will be set up on Beaton street Halloween night, the Lions announced. Games such as bingo, dart throwing, chucking at bottles and the cake walk, were featured and prizes donated by Corsicana merchants will be given away.

Garrett urged all citizens of Corsicana to assist the Lions Club in this venture and attend the carnival which will be from 7 p. m. until 11 p. m. October 31.

PTA Meeting Held At Kerens Tuesday

KERENS, Oct. 9.—(Spl.)—A large group of mothers and teachers met in the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon for the second meeting of the Kerens PTA. The president, Mrs. Jack Anderson, dispensed with routine business after which an interesting program was given.

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, the members of the Fourth Grade, with Jimmie Floyd as announcer, presented two playlets, titled, "Careless and Careful" and "Sad but True," and a song "Johnnie Had a Little Match," which were well received by the audience.

The second portion of the program consisted of talks on "Bettering Human Relations in the Home, in the Church and in the Community," which were given by Mrs. E. K. Howell, Rev. Cletus Pippin and Howell Bristol.

The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 4th at 7:17 p. m. and will be family night.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FRANK HOWARD IN FAIRFIELD, IOWA

The body of Frank Howard, 41, fatally injured nine miles south of Corsicana Wednesday when his plane crashed and burned, is to be forwarded Thursday night to his home at Fairfield, Iowa, by the Griffin Funeral Home. The rites are expected to be held sometime Saturday.

E. E. Newman, 43, Agency, Iowa, companion of Howard, is to be discharged from the P. and S. Hospital during the day and will accompany Howard's family home. He parachuted to safety after an ankle and minor injuries. Howard's chute fouled on the plane and he went down with the craft that burned after falling in a pasture west of the Southern Pacific Lines tracks.

Howard had purchased the twin-motored Cessna craft at Cuero and they were enroute home. Howard was manager of the Fairfield Airways and Newman is also a flier. Howard's wife and son-in-law and daughter were en route from Cuero to Galveston at the time of the accident. They had planned a leisurely auto trip home.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Howard, Fairfield; a daughter, Mrs. Dolores Huffman, Libertyville, Iowa; and a son, Frank Howard, Jr., Fairfield.

Contracts To Be Awarded For First Reservoir Project

WYLLIE, Oct. 9.—(P)—Col. Bernard L. Robinson of Galveston, district Army engineer, said that contracts would be awarded Nov. 7 for construction of the initial earth-embankment of the $12,000,000 Lavon reservoir on the East Fork of the Trinity River.

Robinson, who will direct the construction of the dam, said work would probably start by mid-December. The embankment, he said, will extend nearly two miles across the valley of the East Fork and Pilot Grove Creek, immediately above the confluence of the two streams. The site of the dam is on the 2,600-acre cotton and stock farm of R. E. Alexander of Dallas. It is situated three miles northeast of here.

Robinson, congressman Sam Rayburn and Col. H. Hutchings, Jr., Army division engineer of Dallas, were guests of honor of the Lavon Tri-County Reservoir Association at a barbecue on the site.

quarters said the landing ship was a commercial vessel known as "Coaster Jim." It said the craft had ridden out 30-foot waves and 140-mile winds, losing its top-side gear.

(The landing ship reported it was bucking 80-mile winds at the typhoon's edge. It sought permission to enter the harbor at Chichi Jima, north of Iwo.)

ta," McCammon said, and then added that in a number of nearby towns and cities, "Christians have volunteered to raise sums of money to help in perhaps one of the most humanitarian calls ever made; certainly Corsicana considers it a privilege to participate in this noble enterprise.

Chairman McCammon pointed out that Christian citizens of Corsicana now have the one opportunity to express their appreciation of what the Jewish citizens have meant to this community.

"Since its founding, they have been most liberal in contributions to every worthwhile undertaking of our own, and have furnished some of the most valuable workers in all drives," the chairman stated, and added:

"Yes, our Jewish friends have been among the most generous contributors to the United Charities since its organization some 30 years ago; and yet, no Jewish person has ever asked aid of any kind from us. They take care of charity among their group, without asking others for a penny. "Realizing so many facts, and most of all the urgent need for help at this time, the appeal is being responded to in a generous way."

An authoritative source said the United States expected to make its opening Palestine statement Saturday. Russia, he said, indicated when she would speak, but a high United Nations official said the Soviet delegation had said definitely it would wait until after it had heard the U. S. statement.

A member of the Soviet delegation insisted that Russia's policy was not yet firm as to whether she would support proposals to partition Palestine or the plan for a federalized bi-national country.

U. S. Support Seen.

The United States, on the other hand, was reported yesterday by a leading assembly delegate to be prepared to support the partition plan "with perhaps a few modifications." This, however, could not be confirmed officially.

Today's debate was opened by Emir Adet Arslan of Syria, who followed the line laid down by the other Arab states against both partition and a federalized nation.

He charged the Zionists with having "aggressive" aims, and said the assembly was dealing with the "machinations" of a group which controls the ballots in a "certain country." He did not identify the country.

MINUTE MEALS

MINT PEAS...For a quick and easy dish

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

Associated Press Food Editor.

More and more women are interested these days in preparing delectable food which takes as little time and trouble as possible to cook. "Just a Minute," by Alice Wilcox Richardson (Procyon Press—1947) is written for those women. It isn't a complete cookbook. It doesn't pretend to be. But it has some of the most original, easiest to prepare recipes I've seen in a long time.

The book contains material on utensils, shortcuts and tricks, an especially fine chart on the use of herbs. Naturally, anyone who writes on quick cooking in these times includes general material on the advantages of quick-frozen foods and of pressure cooking.

The greater part of the book is devoted to quick entrees and easy menus. Right there beside the menu (with variations) is given the recipe for the main dish. Other recipes (starred) are to be found later in the book. For example:

For Dinner: Lamb on Skewers; Turkish Rice; Mixed Green Salad; Coffee. Variations: The Dish; French Fried Onions; Garlic Roll; Fruit Bowl; Coffee. Variation II: Tomato and Beef Consomme; the Dish; Scallions with Sour Cream; Broiled Grapefruit; Coffee.

Lamb on Skewers. 2 pounds lamb, 1-2 pound medium sized mushrooms, 3 tablespoons olive oil, oregano, thyme, salt and pepper, 1 bay leaf, 4 medium sized tomatoes, 4 cloves garlic. Serves 4; time about 30 minutes. Have butcher cut lamb in 1-2 inch cubes. Stem mushrooms. Place lamb and mushroom caps on platter. Pour olive oil in glass jar and add pinch of oregano, thyme, salt and pepper and crumbled bay leaf. Shake well and pour over lamb and mushrooms. Let stand for half an hour or more, turning them at intervals so they will become well marinated. Cut tomatoes in quarters and garlic cloves in half. Thread ingredients on metal skewers, alternating lamb, mushrooms, tomatoes, and garlic. Cook skewers on broiling pan 4 inches from medium flame. When brown on one side, turn and brown on other. This may also be cooked over charcoal.

Tomato and Beef Consomme. 1 can tomato juice, 1 can beef consomme, thyme, 2 tablespoons sherry, 4 tablespoons sour cream. Heat tomato juice, consomme and pinch of thyme to boiling point. Add sherry and pour in bouillon cups. Drop 1 tablespoon of sour cream on top of each.

Mint Peas. 2 pounds peas, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, mint leaves.

Put peas in saucepan with 1 cup boiling water. Add sugar, vinegar and salt. Boil 15 to 20 minutes, covered. Five minutes before they are done add about 10 mint leaves.

This last dish would be even easier made with quick-frozen peas, as I'm sure Alice Richardson would agree. I would suggest that you cook the peas according to directions on the package, drain, and then add the other ingredients just before serving.

NAVARRO COUNTY TAX COLLECTIONS STARTED THURSDAY

RENDITIONS ROLL AP-PROVED; EARLY PAYMENT
DISCOUNT ALLOWED

Collection of current taxes for Navarro county real and personal properties began Thursday morning at the office of Arnold A. Armstrong, assessor and collector of taxes. A discount is allowed for early payment of taxes again this year.

The collections began following the return Wednesday of Armstrong from Austin where he received the go-ahead signal from the office of George H. Shappard, state comptroller, after submitting the final 1947 tax renditions roll.

The 1947 county tax bill will be considerably higher since the state rate is increased and also since the local and county rate has been boosted by a vote of the people. The local boost is the additional 10-cent Navarro Junior College levy voted the past summer.

Current taxes paid 1. October will receive a three percent discount, while two percent will be allowed for November payment and a one percent reduction is allowed for December remittances. No discount will be allowed during January and the taxes unpaid by February 1 become delinquent. The discount for early payment applies to state and county taxes except for poll taxes.

The 1947 tax roll totals $21,429,148 as compared with $20,887,568 in 1946, an increase this year of $541,460.

The State rate is 72 cents. The regular county levy is 25 cents, general fund; 15 cents, road and bridge fund; two cents, permanent improvement; one cent, jury; 15 cents, special road tax, and 20 cents, junior college levy—78 cents county rate. The above levies do not include the road, school and levee improvement district nor the municipal taxes in incorporated cities and towns. The county rate applies to all properties while the state rate is for non-homestead property. Homesteads to $3,000 valuation are exempt for state tax.

Meetings Held By "I Like Ike" For President Clubs

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Henry Spaulding of Washington, National Executive Secretary of the Eisenhower-for-president clubs, is conferring in New York today and tomorrow with local groups interested in urging the candidacy of General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Winston M. Thornburg, advertising man and registered Republican, said last night the movement has the support of 4,000 New Yorkers, many of them veterans. He said the drive would be similar to the 1940 "draft Willie" movement.

"But we want to keep away from any implication that he (Eisenhower) is a candidate," Thornburg said. "Though he hasn't

United States Women Celebrate Twenty Years Of Progress

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

American women, celebrating the twentieth anniversary of National Business Women's Week, Oct. 5 to 11, can look back on a period which contained their greatest business, professional and political advance. It also contained the hottest and most varied criticism—especially of "Mom"—that the women of this country ever received.

National Business Women's Week is sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, most of whose 119,091 members have built their careers in the period since World War I. In that period the United States women's labor force virtually doubled.

From approximately 8,500,000 in 1920 to 17,310,000 in early August, 1947. Of these, 16,680,000 were working and 630,000 looking for jobs.

Today women constitute almost 30 per cent of those at work in the United States and are the great majority of workers in a number of occupations. They form 93 per cent of the secretaries and typists, 90 per cent of the medical laboratory technicians, 98 per cent of the professional nurses, 52 per cent of the bookkeepers, accountants and cashiers, 42 per cent of the store clerks, 94 per cent of the telephone operators, 77 per cent of the laundry operatives, 47 per cent of the operatives in cotton manufacture, 98 per cent of the dressmakers and seamstresses outside factories, 86 per cent of the operatives in knit goods and 90 per cent of the boarding house keepers.

Computations on the numbers of women in the teaching ranks vary from 75 to 85 per cent, but they are unquestionably in a big majority. In the fields of higher education women now serve as presidents of 84 colleges (11 per cent of the college and university total), and as presidents of 56 junior colleges (31 percent.) In 1939-40, 429 (or 18 per cent of the total) received doctorates.

Some standouts climbed to stellar positions as the heads of corporations, department stores and other fields of commerce, while thousands more served as their able department heads and aids.

Other thousands did outstanding and valuable work in the fields of social welfare, home economics, nutrition, libraries and in such medical occupations as that of occupational therapists and x-ray technicians. In journalism, art and music women also made their mark.

In the field of politics and government, which women entered after World War I, they were extensively criticized for not having accomplished more in their first 27 years of franchise rights. Today there are only seven women in the House of Representatives and none in the Senate—a much smaller percentage than that in the British and French parliaments. Nevertheless women have been increasingly active in the lower and intermediate rungs of the political ladder. In the fall of 1947 there are 234 women in state legislatures and several have served in the revision of state constitutions.

They are represented in almost every branch of the judiciary, serving as judges in the U. S. Tax Court, U. S. Customs Court, U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and as municipal judges, probate judges, domestic relations and juvenile court judges. Many have served long terms.

In many professions, however, the ranks of women still are very small, though they have made a creditable beginning. The last census showed that women constitute two per cent of the country's lawyers, five per cent of the doctors, little over two per cent of the architects and a small percentage of those working in scientific fields. However, current college enrollments indicate that the percentage may reveal a sizeable increase in those figures.

Many factors contributed to American women's working advance in the past three decades, but one of the most outstanding was an increasing necessity for women to earn their own living due to a combination of social and economic factors. The Women's Bureau of the U. S. Dept. of Labor, after interviewing more than 13,000 women employed in 1944-45 in ten war-congested areas located throughout the country, found that 84 per cent of those who wanted to work after the war had to support themselves and sometimes others. In 1940, married women constituted more than 33 per cent of the female labor force and women were the heads of 15 per cent of the country's families. Many experts expect the 1950 census to reveal a marked increase in these figures.

Dworshak did not name the Texas and Oklahoma stations, nor those being retained.

Dworshak said the chief of the navy personnel branch told him the three stations are being given up primarily because they are far removed from population centers.

At Farragut, he said, the Navy is retaining 48 acres for its experimental field station. The remainder has been turned over to the war assets administration for disposal but WAA told Dworshak that the former hospital area which is under a five-year lease to the Farragut College and Technical Institute, will be preserved for possible future use by the government.

Navy Said Abandoning Three Wartime Bases

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) said today the Navy is abandoning three of its war-time naval training centers.

These are stations in Oklahoma and Texas and at Farragut, Idaho. Five will remain for possible future use.

He won't be, he definitely has said he isn't."

Thornburg said buttons would be distributed soon bearing the inscription, "I Like Ike."

FORMER PRESIDENT'S SON, JOHN COOLIDGE, NOW LIVES QUIETLY

41-YEAR-OLD MAN IS JUST WHERE HE WANTS TO BE—ON HIS OWN

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 9.—(AP)—John Coolidge at 41 is just where he's wanted to be almost from the day he left the glamor of the White House—strictly on his own.

It could have been otherwise for the son of the late President Calvin Coolidge. But he wanted to avoid being the "boss' son," he said as he told with characteristic Coolidge shyness why he was living the quiet life of a small business executive.

There was an echo of his father's famous "I do not care to run" statement in his own explanation of what he is rather than what he might have been.

"On My Own."
John's father-in-law, former Gov. John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, was head of the big Trumbull Electric Manufacturing Company in Plainville back in 1928 when young Coolidge, then fresh out of Amherst College, was casting about for a career.

"I knew I could get a job in Trumbull Electric," he recalled, "but I chose railroad because I wanted to see if I could go on my own."

That's the way he felt then, just before the Coolidges moved out of the White House. That's the way John Coolidge feels today.

"I want to prove myself that I can get along without being pushed—without being the boss' son," he said.

"Just Plain Folks."

Coolidge, "just plain folks" to his neighbors in suburban Farmington, worked for the New Haven Railroad for 12 years before he quit his job as traveling agent to become his own boss. Now he heads a Hartford business forms manufacturing company (The Connecticut Manifold Forms Company) which employs 22 persons.

Both at his office and at his home, where his companions are his wife, the former Florence Trumbull, and their two children, Cynthia, 13, and Lydia, 8, he lives the quiet life of the typical business man.

He mows his own lawn and does other jobs about the red brick Colonial house he moved into last April after living in a converted stable because of the housing shortage.

Works Long Hours.

The family's favorite vacation spot is the Coolidge farm in Plymouth, Vt., now owned by his mother. There, he says, the youngsters like to ride the hay wagon and help drive the cows from pasture.

He often stays at his desk until 6 p. m., the last to leave the plant. When interviewed at his office, he was in his shirt sleeves finishing a nine-hour day.

Coolidge conceded it was not always easy for the son of a former president to live as he has chosen.

"It makes one self-conscious because you feel people are watching you," he said. "There is a feeling you can't live normally. Father and mother were concerned about the children for that reason."

With a twinkle in his eyes, Coolidge admitted that he himself was not guileless when it came to curiosity about celebrities.

Wanted to See FDR.

When President Roosevelt visited Hartford some years ago, he joined the crowd at the railroad station to have a look.

"I didn't vote for him, but I wanted to see what he looked like," he said.

Coolidge has many hobbies—fishing, hunting, reading (mostly newspapers) and woodworking—but politics is not one of them. He said he felt he had neither the temperament nor a "thick enough skin" for politics.

He does, however, have one political gripe. His business, he asserted, is "hamstrung" by government regulations, and he feels that federal taxes are unfair to him.

His business philosophy? "I was brought up on the old-fashioned theory that if you want to achieve something you have to work for it, and keep working for it," he said. "To produce until we have a surplus is the only way to bring prices down."

MEXICAN WOMAN WHO CLAIMED NEGRO 'HELD' HER IS SENT HOME

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A young Mexican woman who told officials her father had sold her to a 50-year-old Corsicana negro ex-convict for 24 pesos, left here by bus for Mexico last night.

No charges have been filed against the negro. Officials were awaiting instructions from Washington.

W. C. Young, in charge of immigration and naturalization here, quoted the woman as saying her father sold her to the negro, who forced her to come to Corsicana as a virtual prisoner, or slave. The negro, held in jail in Corsicana on a drunkenness charge, denied the story and told officers the woman followed him to this country.

Immigration Officer Jack L. Adkins said the woman was emaciated and highly nervous.

The Red Cross furnished her clothes for her bus return to Mexico. The negro was released pending further investigation. The negro's arrest on a drunk charge several days ago by city police led to the discovery of the Latin-American woman in a house in the 1500 block in East Fourth avenue.

Some Gave Remarks. Georges also had room for remarks, should the signers care for some. Some of them did.

For the most part, however, the signers either indicated yes or no, and let it go at that.

The vote at noon Thursday was 69 to 32 in favor of adhering to the food saving plan.

All cafes were serving eggs as usual Thursday, leaving it to the customer to make his decision. Some say they have no legal right to refuse a customer eggs, chicken or meat should he ask for it.

Typical Comments. Typical of the comments written in Georges' book were:

Yes—Provided they agree to help themselves.

No—We have too many starving in the metropolitan areas of this country that we should care for first.

Yes—if we don't abide by this plan voluntarily we will probably be forced to do it.

Yes—I believe the plan good, but doubt the people will cooperate.

SERVICES WEDNESDAY FOR YOUTH KILLED IN PLANE ACCIDENT

Funeral services for Johnny H. Underwood, Jr., aged 22 years, killed in a plane crash Monday afternoon 12 miles south of San Antonio, were held from the McCammon Chapel Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. ed its first poultryless-eggsless Thursday today but a survey indicated compliance with the president's request was not 100 percent.

A nationwide survey indicated that while some restaurants were complying by banning eggs at breakfast, others were serving them and ordering for bacon and sausage as substitutes increased.

BUSINESS AS USUAL. SIOUX CITY, S. D., Oct. 8.—(AP)—O. Norton Jameson, operator of one of South Dakota's larger eating places, said meatless Tuesday had been well accepted and that he expected no drop in patronage today when poultry and eggs will be missing from his menus.

Jameson is the State Prison Warden.

As a prominent distillery industry official predicted a 60-day shutdown will start about Oct. 25, there were these other repercussions:

Repercussions Seen.

1. Tax experts figured the government could lose as much as $472,536,000 in liquor taxes.

2. Industry officials said there will be little or no effect, so far as liquor consumers are concerned.

"There is no shortage, we expect none, and there is no excuse for raising prices," a spokesman said.

This spokesman said, however, that there might be some effect on gin stocks, as gin manufacturers generally do not have large reserves.

Joseph A. Engelhard of Louisville, president of the Distilled Spirits Institute, said "it is just a question of mechanics" to work out the date for the shutdown asked by President Truman and his citizens food committee.

Engelhard told a reporter the switches cannot be pulled overnight but that "it could be done smoothly" in two or three weeks.

"Guess Around 25th."

"My guess would be around the 25th," he said.

Charles Luckman, food committee chairman, turns his attention next to the beer and ale makers.

Brewing industry representatives will meet in Chicago tomorrow to discuss possible savings and will give Luckman their answer probably early next week.

Luckman said he has no doubt that the liquor industry will get together on the shutdown despite some uncertainty which developed at a conference on the plan yesterday. A number of industry officials concurred.

39 Companies Represented.

This was what happened at the conference:

Thirty-nine companies were represented. After a two and one-half hour discussion, 18 voted in favor of the shutdown. The remaining 21 firms abstained from voting, saying they wanted to confer further with their directors or stockholders.

Luckman said all the major distillers were represented, but he declined to say how any individual company voted.

The companies, he told newsmen, were asked to (1) close down for 60 days and (2) release immediately all stocks of grain they have on hand or on order.

He said he assured the industry, on behalf of the administration, that there will be no request that the shutdown be extended for a longer time, but he said he could not promise distillers will not be asked to adopt some conservation measures when the holiday is over.

At Winters, approximately 50 miles northeast of San Angelo, a three-inch rain disrupted telephone service.

Rain fell in widely scattered areas.

An east by northeast wind, rolling back clouds on San Antonio in Southwest Texas, made mercury retreat from a high of 92 degrees to 72 degrees within an hour. But only a trace of rain fell.

An overnight fall of more than 2 inches fell at Carrollton in Dallas county.

The forecast for tomorrow calls for cloudiness and scattered showers in the south portion of East Texas, and cloudiness in West

The prediction for scattered light showers in the Houston area was the first such forecast since Sept. 14. No rain has fallen there since Sept. 15.

In Bexar county, which has had no rain in October and is suffering the driest year since 1925, a trace fell yesterday from heavy overcast skies. Temperatures dropped, but little rain did. Rainfall to date this year totals 9.14 inches in San Antonio, or a deficiency of 9.14 inches.

Good weather continued to prevail in Dallas, where the State Fair is playing to capacity crowds. The local weather bureau predicted continued good weather during the next two days.

KEMP RESIDENTS MAY JOIN THIS COUNTY IN HIGHWAY HEARINGS

A delegation from Kemp, Kaufman county, conferred with road officials here Tuesday afternoon relative to joining the Navarro county contingent in a hearing before the Texas highway commission in Austin Oct. 24. The Kaufman county citizens are interested in the proposed state highway to extend from Corsicana in a northerly direction to a point on Highway 274 south of Kemp that will be sought at the hearing.

The visitors also are of the opinion that the Kaufman and Navarro county delegations will be joined by citizens of the extreme northwestern tip of Henderson county, since the proposed highway, if granted and constructed, will go through that area. Another meeting will be held before the trip to Austin, Herman Brown, secretary of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, indicated Wednesday afternoon.

The Navarro county delegation that will seek the designation will be composed of representatives of Roane, Montfort and Chaffield in the northeastern section of Navarro county, commissioners court and the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Kaufman county visitors here Tuesday were headed by Jeff Still, and included George D. Allen, county commissioner; W. C. Valentine, mayor of Kemp, and F. L. Jeter.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. It should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus take the "time" to come.
2. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain, purely functional, periodic distress.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you're glad you did.

Reps. Nokes, McVey Off To Meeting On State Governments

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—(P)—State Representatives George Nokes of Corsicana and Elmer McVey of Teague left today for Memphis, Tenn., to participate in the Southern regional conference of the Council of State Governments.

The meeting, scheduled for Thursday and Friday, will be attended by representatives from Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss problems concerning the states participating, including discussion of parole and probation supervision, conservation of Gulf fisheries, agriculture and education.

State Home Juniors Nose Out Cleburne

The State Home Greenies, Junior gridders from the Home, outlasted the Cleburne Juniors in Cleburne Wednesday night, winning a 7-5 contest from the Johnson county gridders by virtue of an extra point conversion.

Jack Denny, ace Greenie back, scrambled 70 yards in the first four minutes of play to score the only touchdown for the State Home. Floyd Foster loped around end for the extra point and the score that gave the Greenies their win.

The Cleburne club scored in the second quarter with a strong passing attack, but failed to convert. The Greenies racked up four first downs to six for Cleburne, and completed two passes while Cleburne was completing seven.

School Buses Fail To Pass Inspection

Approximately half of Navarro county's 61 school buses have failed to pass inspections by state patrolmen, County Superintendent J. C. Watson reported Thursday.

Patrolmen Byron Currin and R. M. Arnold began their annual inspections about 10 days ago. Schools have until Jan. 1 to prepare their buses according to regulations of the new traffic code.

Watson said the initial inspection disclosed only minor violations which will be corrected.

Married Wednesday, James Dillard Stroud and Virginia Davis, both of Missouri, were married at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace W. H. Johnson.

LOCAL CONTINGENT WILL PLAY THREE OUT-OF-TOWN TILTS

The Corsicana Tigers hit the road Friday for their first out-of-town game of the 1947 season, taking on the Palestine High gridders there Friday night at 7:30. The game will be the first of three games on the road for the Tigers before they return to home grounds in early November.

Several hundred local fans are expected to follow the locals to Palestine, although crossing the train have been chartered. Most of them will make the trip by automobile. The Corsicana High school band will accompany the team to Palestine.

Three high school buses will carry the organization, and Principal R. A. Armistead has indicated that other school buses will be available to students planning to attend.

Fans who plan to attend the game via automobile are warned that Highway 287 in the vicinity of the Trinity river crossing is in bad repair, and are advised to proceed cautiously in that area. Some fans plan to drive by way of Athens, which is a slightly longer drive, but is in better condition.

Corsicana fans are also reminded that the game starts at 7:30, a half hour earlier than the usual Tiger night games.

Adult tickets to the game will sell at 75 cents and will be on sale at the high school, P. and S. Pharmacy, McAdams Pharmacy and Frank Ware's drug store beginning on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Student tickets will be sold at the high school only, at 30 cents apiece.

Bunkals Favored.

The Tigers rate slight favorites over Palestine, which has lost three games and tied one so far this season without breaking into the win column. Coach Boyd Payne has sounded an ominous note, however, in pointing out that the Anderson county gridders have not had a touchdown scored on them this season through ground plays, and that they will be playing on home grounds.

The Tigers have been drilled hard on offense this week to cope with a Palestine defensive set-up that is shifty, and is hardly the same from play to play. The gridders scrimmaged the State Home Lads early this week, and have had several heavy scrimmages among themselves. Nothing but minor injuries have been sustained by the locals, and from all indications, they will be at full strength for the fracas.

Buzz Kennedy Star.

The Palestine club will depend for its offense mainly on Buzz Kennedy, 140-pound fullback. They boast a number of tough linemen to throw up against the Tiger forward wall.

The tentative Tiger lineup against Palestine:

GOVERNMENT AGENCY VISITED BY STATE, NATIONAL OFFICIALS

National and state officials of the Farmers Home Administration, United States department of agriculture, conferred Tuesday with Harrison Fendley, Navarro county supervisor, relative to the policies and procedures in making and collection of loans.

The visiting officials were headed by S. Paul Lindsey, Jr., deputy administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, Washington.

The deputy administrator has been in the field for the past two years, conferring with local supervisors and others on the policies and procedures in making and collection of loans, getting a first-hand and "grass-roots" view of the entire situation as well as giving local officials the benefit of the experiences of other localities, etc.

This governmental lending agency is to be of service to farmers unable to obtain credit from other sources, with veterans having preference.

A new feature of this governmental program is that congress provided in the act for the administering of insured mortgage loans. Congress reduced the appropriation from $50,000,000 last year to $15,000,000 for the present fiscal year.

The Farmers Home Administration is a combination of the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office of the Farm Credit Administration.

Fendley has been in charge of the local office since July 1, returning to Corsicana from Bryan. Others in the party here Tuesday included W. E. Farrell, assistant state director, Dallas; Louis Dunbar, field representative, Dallas; and L. A. Machenehl, production and loan division, Dallas.

STATE HOME LADS
TO MEET MILDRED
HIGH TEAM FRIDAY

The District 25-B grid race goes into its second week of competition Friday night when all eight of the members square off against each other in a series of games that may throw additional light on the strongest members of the circuit.

The State Home Lads, who powered their way to a 58-12 win over Italy last week, have had nothing but a few minor injuries to prevent their being ready for their tilt with the surprising Mildred team that held Hubbard to a 6-6 tie last week.

The game will be played at Garfield Field Friday night at 7:30, and it will be the last game of the 1947 season, Corsicana fans who have lagged to attend the games at Garfield Field because of fear of running over some of the kiddies as they drive through the grounds can rest easy now. Boy Scouts will guide incoming traffic to the Home Friday night around the main grounds to the field.

Kerens Meets Dawson
Kerens, the defending champion of the district, and certainly a leading contender again this year, will take on the Dawson eleven that blanked Frost last week 19-0, and it will be the last game of the season for both teams.

Both teams have a number of capable lettermen back from their 1946 clubs, and both can roll up just about any type of score they want against their neighbors. Two teams clash on November 7 at Kerens.

District 25-B Standing

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
Kerens	1	0	0	1.000
State Home	1	0	0	1.000
Dawson	1	0	0	1.000
Hubbard	0	1	0	.500
Mildred	0	0	1	.500
Blooming Grove	0	1	0	.000
Italy	0	1	0	.000

Last Week's Results
Kerens 58, Blooming Grove 7; State Home 56, Italy 12; Hubbard 6, Mildred 6 (tie); Dawson 19, Frost 6.

This Week's Schedule
Mildred at State Home, Kerens at Dawson, Italy at Hubbard, and Italy at Blooming Grove.

Mrs. Oran Williams will be hostess to members of the Frost Home Demonstration club on October 15 at which time the program will be in charge of Miss Eva Sue Merritt, county home demonstration agent.

Davis Speaker. Principal speaker was B. C. Davis, state supervisor of vocational education of the Texas State Board for Vocational Education.

He discussed the vocational training program, pointing out that of the types of courses offered, 70 percent are for agricultural trainees. The other 30 percent, he said, are courses in distributive education and Trades and Industries.

Navarro county trainees are farmer-veterans who did not plan on going to college. Essentially, farmers, the veterans spend one-half their time in class and the other half on the farms, Davis explained.

Two hundred counties of the state are participating in the Veterans Vocational School. The speaker reported, and there are almost 30,000 trainees enrolled at this time. One year ago there were only 2,700. Davis said there would be more trainees if instructors were available.

OFFICER DISCUSSES NEW TRAFFIC LAW AT CIVITAN MEETING

Sgt. John Nunn of the Texas highway patrol answered questions concerning Texas' new traffic law Thursday at the luncheon meeting of the Civitan Club in the Navarro Hotel.

Medical entertainment was furnished by Mrs. L. S. Cooper, vocalist, accompanied by Edward French Hearne at the piano. F. C. Paul and H. E. McElroy were on the program committee.

"Texas' new uniform traffic code was written because our old one was made for horse and buggy days," Sgt. Nunn said, and emphasized the fact that by the first of 1948 approximately 200 new highway patrolmen will have been hired to help enforce the code.

"It is up to you, the public, to help support the new law," the patrolman said. "In this modern day it is the courteous driver and the driver who watches the other driver, who live the longest. The law of the highway is full of drivers who have the right of way."

The major changes in the law, which Nunn covered briefly, are: Lights—The law now requires two headlights, one on each side of the vehicle; a burning red light on the rear, and a burning white light over the license plate in the rear.

Passing—Passing on the right side of vehicle going in the same direction as you is now permitted in some instances, mainly on multi-laned highways.

Parking—The highway patrol now has the power to remove a stalled or abandoned vehicle from the highway.

Public Responsibility—When a person is involved in an accident in which damage in the amount of $25 or more is concerned, he is required by state law to make a report to the sheriff or highway patrol.

Following the explanation of the major changes, Sgt. Nunn held an open forum for questions from the assembled Civitans.

Visitors at the meeting were Highway Patrolmen Byron Currin and R. M. Arnold, Bud Morton and C. E. Chiles of Fairfield.
